

Planning some time away from the Kumon Centre?

Kumon is flexible! No batteries, chargers or Wi-Fi are needed. Your child can continue to study worksheets anywhere in the world with just a pencil and an eraser.

Continue studying worksheets while away

Kumon has been designed as a daily, all-year-round, home-based study programme. If you are planning time away from the Kumon centre, please notify your Kumon Instructor by the 15th of the preceding month of the period for which you will be away so that he/she can plan and prepare an individualised holiday study programme for your child. Your monthly Kumon tuition fees will continue to be debited as normal while you are away.

Please consider the following three options to suit your child's individual study needs and maximise his/her holiday learning:

Option 1: Continue Normal Study (No Change)

The strength of the Kumon Programme is that the daily learning continues to stretch and develop your child. Just 15-20 minutes of daily study keeps your child's mind active and switched on, enabling him/her to return to school with confidence. Encourage your child to complete Kumon first thing in the morning before he/she starts on an adventure-packed day.

Option 2: Increase/Decrease Your Daily Workload

Some students are motivated to increase their daily workload in order to optimise the opportunities provided by the school break. It's a great opportunity to surge ahead and master new concepts before they are introduced at school.

The option of decreasing the daily workload or the total number of study days per week can be a helpful strategy particularly for students whose motivation levels are flagging. This strategy can help such students to feel that they are having a mini-break from their regular routine, while continuing to benefit from the ongoing learning. Once the motivation returns it's easier to get back into the normal daily study habit.

Option 3: Review for Consolidation

The school break can also provide students with a wonderful opportunity to review the learning of the past few months and consolidate their understanding before they move onto the next concept. The change in routine can allow students to focus greater attention on mastering the concept(s) they have been studying and build their confidence in preparation for the new school year.

Please note: In the event that you need to suspend from Kumon during the time that you will be away, please notify your Kumon Instructor by the 15th of the preceding month as per the Kumon Agreement. Your Kumon Instructor will then be able to authorise a stop to your payment for the full calendar month that you will be away.
